In conventional putters, a sole, heel and toe pads are connected by a grip. The head of the putter is rigid and the distance between the grip and the head remains fixed. Therefore, it is difficult for the golfer to adjust the head to the golf ball precisely when putting the ball. In addition, the head is not flexible and not adjustable to the position of a golfer's hand. It is difficult for the golfer to adjust the head to an ideal position.Q: Batch Script - Creating Custom Variable Problem statement: Batch Script 1.txt file : @echo off rem ----> start the batch script pause rem ----> end of the batch script @setlocal rem ----> begin of the batch script rem ----> set Var1=C:\Users\abcd\Desktop\Test.txt set Var2=abcd set Var3=abcd/Test.txt set Var4=cde @echo %Var2% @echo %Var3% @echo %Var4% Output 1.txt File: set Var
