I've always used Windows 10 actually. On Windows 10 you can find control panel by Ctrl + Alt + C and then choose the option "Disconnect from the internet (Internet Properties)" to remove network from the process that prompts you. If you use Linux, and similarly on macOS, you should know the way of disabling network connection from Activity Monitor. I'll leave here the link to Activity Monitor from macOS. If you are on a mac, and it's also connected to internet, open "Activity Monitor" and navigate to "Network" and you'll find the device. If you click on it, a box will appear. In the case of my mac, it was named "WiFi0" (WiFi on windows is something different). Here is the apple's official link to Activity Monitor.
