School Alarm App is a straightforward Windows utility designed to make it as easy as possible for you to manage the school breaks between classes. Easy to install and just as easy to get along with Of course, should you choose to, you can use this app for other institutions that have somewhat similar schedule structures as well. To get this app up and running, you are first required to make sure that.NET Framework 4.5 or newer is present on your computer's system. The installation procedure is pretty much straightforward and, happily, so is the overall functionality of the application. The app's main window is intuitively split into seven sections, each section for a specific day of the week starting from Sunday and ending with Saturday. Straightforward and novice-accessible feature set That said, simply add a series of alarms on any given day, select the hour at which the alarm should be activated, the duration of the alarm and any desired audio file from your computer, in MP3 or WAV format. It's also worth highlighting some of the app's extra features that are not so easily visible right off the bat. For example, you're provided with the possibility of sorting the alarms on any given day, rearranging them effortlessly using intuitive drag and drop gestures, exporting and importing alarm lists. Lastly, please note that you can also copy and paste alarms from one section to another. No frills yet very efficient school alarm management app for your computer Before we conclude, we could point out that the UI is not exactly modern (even though it gets the job done valiantly) or even point out a few extra features which would have made the app even better. However, School Alarm App is without a doubt a very useful application that does its job right without requiring noteworthy know-how or effort from its users. One of the most usable tools to be found on the market today that is affordable and easier to manage than traditional alarm clocks School Alarm is actually a very, very useful tool that is sure to make your life much easier if you have to get up early in the morning to get to school on time. Not only that, it is quite simple to use and that is a testament to its overall quality as a product. The interface has been designed so that you can navigate the app in a very natural way and make the desired changes without having to deal with a confusing user interface. In fact, School Alarm also offers a very simple interface for the display of the alarms themselves. Simply add a series of alarms on
