In the years to come, and at the rate things are going in our country, millions of Indians will have to flee from their homes due to the ever-increasing corruption and increasing anarchy. They have no choice but to leave. The alternative is not very pleasant. So for those who are tired of life in India, and those who would like to change their lives, have a better life and live with a different mindset, we have a suggestion for you. The choice is yours. Move to Bhutan! Though the average salary in India is just $900 a month, so far away from home and with expenses to be paid, most of us would not even be able to see a return on our investment. However, if you move to a country where the average income is just $9000 a year, that makes the value of what you can earn from that income, even more, and with a bit of creativity you can make your life and money last for a lot longer than you might imagine. It is a culture completely different from India's, and the only reason you can't make a fortune there is that it's not a free market. They have put

It was designed to help designers and business analysts to build and edit BPMN diagrams. It makes it easier to collaborate between business analysts and IT developers. It allows designers to model real business requirements and provides a set of tools that facilitates the modeling process. The objects and attributes are all editable and the real business process can be visualized by using the BPMN diagram to explain the business process. To model a real business process it is possible to use the powerful flow editor.   It is especially suitable for smaller projects as it is easy to setup and uses Visio Professional for editing the diagrams.   Enhancements: * The Diagram Tools Toolbox now has its own Context Menu to hide specific operations that were previously located in a main menu   * It is possible to have a "Jump to" pop up menu item for each object in a diagram, which enables you to easily navigate to all objects containing the same name   * You can now use "Design Time Properties" to set BPMN-specific attributes and annotations in your diagrams   * New "Custom Properties" panel that provides a set of attributes and annotations, ready to be used in a BPMN diagram. You can use them to easily set or populate a BPMN element.
