I have a 500GB external USB drive which I have formatted using Mac OS X 10.7 Lion and converted the drive to ext3 filesystem using the Disk Utility. I'm now experiencing a weird problem where all files on the drive appear grey to Finder, although some are clearly visible. After searching for an answer for hours, I finally found a thread about this issue on Apple.com: I've followed their instructions, which included deleting the.Trashes folder, rebooting and rebooting again. The grey files appear to be randomly distributed, but seem to be in several folders on the drive: ~ -/AppleDouble -/AppleDesktop -/AppleDocs -/AppleSupport -/AppleUpdates -/Backup -/Bookmarks -/Clips -/Desktop -/Documents -/Downloads -/Favorites -/NetRSS -/Network -/Public -/ScreenSaver -/Sites -/Temp -/Trashes -/Volumelcon.icns (Note: I have no idea why there are so many folders with. in them, but I've ignored them for now). The problem seems to be somewhere in the directory structure, as if deleting all the files and folders except for. and ~ fixes the problem, but I have no idea what's causing the problem in the first place. Any suggestions are much appreciated! A: You shouldn't need to re-format to get Finder to see the files. Try this: Close
