Animation, Comedy - Page 3...The European Parliament is set to hold a momentous vote Wednesday on the EU's top court in a move targeting what's being called the "War on Terror." The resolution, known as the "Terrorism package," is designed to "contain" and "repeal" the Grand Chamber's major ruling in the case of Guéguen and others v. France, which criticized the broad scope of the European Union's nationality and freedom of movement rules. The resolution says "threats of terrorism" are a national security problem that should be dealt with in the national states. It also says "counterterrorism" is central to a state's responsibility to protect its citizens. The bloc's opposition parties overwhelmingly support the package, though a coalition of socialists and liberals has come out against it. The proposal needs a simple majority to pass, a total of 376 votes. If approved by the European Parliament, it would go to the Council of EU governments before becoming law. If the
