Previous “HyperMotion Technology” implementations in FIFA were less accurate than what it is in the release of FIFA 22, and this time around we’re excited to deliver a new feature called “Kinect Pro.”

Kinect Pro combines player movement data with the millions of Kinect 2.0 movement captures performed by millions of players in and out of the World Cup 2018, in order to produce the most accurate and authentic experience for players. FIFA Player Intelligence 2.0. FIFA Player Intelligence 2.0 has enhanced real-life player intelligence by using “kinetic performance” to determine where to send players’ controlled players through the game engine. This means you can tell your players to perform a Cruyff turn and have them explode into a cross to a teammate in the box, and it will work.

Match Types. Like last year, FIFA will support over 80 playable match types, to be determined after the real-life World Cup. A New World Cup Scenario. In addition to the classic 5, 8, 12 or 16-team models, FIFA will also feature 4, 6 or 10-team scenario modes. In FIFA 16, the World Cup was played in 16-team scenario mode, but it will be playable in all scenario modes (4, 6 or 10-team) this year.

The FIFA World Cup will return to a new host nation this year, Poland. Playable World Cup Scenario.

The FIFA World Cup final match between France and Croatia will include a Player Pass feature, which will let you play like you are the best player on the pitch. Big Talents. A few new original created players with big-time potential will be making their debuts in FIFA 22. We’ve made it easier to navigate the gameplay features this year, so you’ll spend less time reading about them and more time playing. Fan Feature When playing FIFA on your Xbox One, you can now view your Game DVR clips or your Xbox One Snapshots in the Edit Mode of FIFA Ultimate Team. This allows you to browse through the gameplay moments as if you were the coach, and you can either quickly skip to the highlights, or go to a specific section of the game. Also, when playing FIFA Ultimate Team, you can now press L2 to view Gambit Cards in-game. Gambit Cards can

What's new:

- Improved momentum-based dribbling: Rashford has moved on from Mane, and we've reworked the move to give agile, lightning pace drives. This is complemented by the addition of better 1 on 1 counters, which allows players to time their runs better.
- "Give the ball to your right back": Only if your right back is with you. This allows players to protect the back post by getting into the box and heading the ball in from there.
- A simpler, more intuitive approach to build-a-team is now the norm: In previous FIFA games, you could pick and choose from a prohibitive number of players and the game would try to guess which ones you wanted. Now, it's a whole lot clearer who's going to play in the team and who's not.
- Improved shooting accuracy: The sights of goalkeepers and defenders have been recalibrated. Good things come out of calibrating.
- Reflector vest - more of a backpack than the static projection option we know from FIFA on game consoles. Reflects the behaviour of the real thing: When players collide with each other, their movements are replicated and exaggerated - making them look as though they've just been thrown together.
- FIFA Friendlies, a FIFA Ultimate Team mode, and set-piece goals (both of which you know from FIFA 19)
- Gigantic overhaul of presentation: Better animation, more realistic stadiums, more vitality, and videos with chants, patriotic song and more
- New players: David Alaba, Kingsley Coman, Jérôme Boateng, Serge Aurier, Gareth Bale, Sebastián Coates, Alex Iwobi, Joshua Kimmich, Moussa Sissoko, Iwona Gorczyk, and more.
- Virtual Team of the Week
- More authentic player models from the past and present.
