The main window The most important thing to know about the Photoshop main screen is that it's always in a state of design edit. You can see any layer that exists in the current design. (See Chapter 14 for the details on layers and the way they're used in Photoshop.) If you have multiple layers, you'll see them all in the layer window. (See the next section for more information on layers.) If you want to work on one layer or the topmost layer, you can do so quickly and easily. In the following sections, we show you a few of the different functions on the main Photoshop window to get you started.

Just like you would use Photoshop in the real world, you'll edit images and create graphics using the some basic shapes, add strokes and colors, adjust curves, and change the size of the image using a new feature called Smart Object. Be sure to check out the remaining tutorials in this series. The Materials Follow these steps to make the image in this tutorial. You can follow along with the steps in this Photoshop document or download the.psd file to follow along with. The Steps 1. Make a Basic Shape Open the vector image in Photoshop. Start with a basic shape. Use the Line Segment Tool to draw a line. Press and hold Ctrl while clicking to draw a closed line. Notice that the line is thick because you selected the Line Segment Tool. To make a thinner line, you'll need to change the line's weight. Press and hold Shift and click to draw a square. By pressing and holding Ctrl, you can connect the two ends of the line together to form a square. Draw another square. Drag the two squares so that they overlap. Press

Shift and click to connect the two squares and create a diamond shape. 2. Add an Inner Border Add a rectangle that covers the inner perimeter of the diamond shape. Start by drawing a rectangle. Move the rectangle so that it's just inside the area of the diamond. Click the Line Segment Tool and select 1-pixel wide black line. Draw a stroke along the lower edge of the rectangle. Drag the rectangle so that it overlaps the inside of the diamond. Use the Direct

Selection Tool (white arrow) to drag the rectangle inward toward the inside of the diamond. Select the white arrow tool. In the Toolbox, click and hold the Corner Selection Tool to make a selection as shown in the image. Use the Direct Selection Tool (white arrow) to move the top edge of the rectangle inward. Click and hold the Direct Selection Tool to select the bottom edge of the rectangle. Move the corner selection tool over the edge of the rectangle that you selected. Also, make sure that you answer all questions that you think could affect the operation of the website. What is the difference between PayPal and Google Checkout? Many of our customers use PayPal and never hear about Google Checkout. And when they are about to pay with Google Checkout, they are confused as to why their information is being sent to Google, etc. We believe that one of the reasons for this is that PayPal is the best option in Europe and in America, whereas Google Checkout is not that widely used in Europe. PayPal is used more and more, but Google Checkout isn't being used in Europe. It's also interesting to note that PayPal is more widely used in Europe than in America. It would be logical for Google to aim to conquer the same markets. However, you should also know that both Google Checkout and PayPal are safer options than a bank transfer. What is the difference between the currencies that are available on the website? At the moment, we offer shoppers from Germany, Austria, France, Italy, Spain, the Netherlands, Switzerland and the United Kingdom the
