The Toshiba Satellite A10-S200 is an easy-to-use and reliable desktop, laptop, Ultrabook,.The present invention relates to the field of data processing in a computer system. More specifically, the present invention relates to the creation, tracking, and utilization of knowledge bases in a computer system. Personal computers (PCs) and other types of computer systems are becoming more and more complex. More functionality and processing power is being packed into such PC's. Accordingly, it is increasingly difficult for users to be certain what programs, features, or services are included in their computer systems, how they perform, and how to operate them. To assist users with the management of their PC's, manufacturers typically provide documentation with their PC's or provide means for downloading supplemental programs that allow the user to access and utilize the documentation. However, this approach usually requires the user to have knowledge about the PC's operations and capabilities to utilize the documentation. Additionally, the user must actively request and download the supplemental program, typically via a connection to the Internet or other external network, and then utilize the program to access the supplemental information. This approach can also be time consuming since it typically requires a user to obtain the documentation and then follow the instructions included therein to utilize the information. Further, since documentation is typically only provided as a single-use application, once downloaded or otherwise accessed, the user must either save or print the documentation and/or take the time to take the documentation with them whenever it is utilized. Additionally, this approach doesn't adequately allow for the user to use the documentation at their convenience, i.e., when the documentation is available and a means for accessing the documentation exists.Q: show
