A: MacOS has a lot of code that you cannot run from within a browser. Currently, even running Javascript from within a browser is restricted on OSX. This means a lot of your code is not going to work. Your best option is to run it on a Windows box and then put it in a container such as docker to run it on Mac. This way you can run it on Mac and it will act as if you are running it on Windows. Q: 2-year-old climbing, falling off the
