

Munadi PC/Windows

Using a powerful algorithm inspired by the works of Muhammad ibn Abd al-Wahhab, Munadi is an application that will help you know exactly what time it is for each prayer. If you want to know what prayer it is as well, the application will show the next prayer and the name it will start at. If you want to see how many more prayers are left, it will also tell you. Simply open the application, select the prayer you want to know, and close it. You will be able to know when it starts and finish, and for how long. Well then the Minesweeper app by Minor Programming is perfect for you! The application makes it easy to tap on cells in a grid and reveal whether they are mines or are safe to use. Of course, it has to be a classic Minesweeper, meaning that there can only be one mine per cell. You can keep your score tally private, post your results and take screenshots to brag your achievements. If you don't want to bother with a time limit, you can just let it run till it's done. It's an interesting little game, if you're into the Minesweeper genre. Minesweeper App Description: The official Minesweeper app from the most famous game company. Munadi is a small easy to use application that helps you with your prayer times. The application has one main window and a small configuration window. In this main window, we can see the prayer times on top and the direction of the prayer times (if defined) to the left. Additionally, an opening slide is shown at the top with a space to show where we can click a button to show the configuration window. Configuration screen: On the configuration screen you will find settings for day light savings time, predefined prayer times, time adjustment, and region setting. Additionally, there is a toggle switch to show/hide the prayer times. Time schedules: The time scheduling is automated which means that it starts at a predefined time (or can be set manually), then triggers every 30 minutes until the next start time is reached. At each trigger it shows a green icon in the top left corner indicating that it is now time to pray. Note: If you always want it to run at the specific time you choose it will never show the green icon. If you don't want it to show then you can hide the green icon by clicking the icon. You can also set it to trigger every day or never. Region settings: While praying you normally face a particular direction, you can choose the direction from the configured direction of the icon at the left. Schedule is fully compatible with daylight savings time. Prayer times are based on the Muslim World League. Currently, there are more than 10,000 locations already added to the Munadi database. Munadi is highly compatible and works well with any other Islamic application. Munadi Description: Munadi is a small easy to use application that helps you with your prayer times.
