Abdul Hamid, a 37-year-old Melbourne man, appeared at the county courthouse in Sydney on Monday to plead guilty to four child sex offenses. Authorities allege that Hamid lied to an undercover police officer about his wife's whereabouts before travelling to Syria in 2016 to join Islamic State. Get The Times of Israel's Daily Edition by email and never miss our top stories Free Sign Up In 2017, Hamid arrived in Turkey and asked to be taken to Syria, police said. From there, he traveled to Syria, where he planned to visit relatives. A year later, authorities said, Hamid was arrested in a hotel in the southern Syrian city of Aqrabat on charges of raping a 10-year-old girl and seven boys. Police said Hamid had sexually assaulted the girl in October 2016 in a mosque in Melbourne's north. He was arrested, but not charged, in June 2017 at the travel point in Melbourne from where he flew to Turkey. After his arrest, prosecutors said, Hamid used Skype to urge fellow Islamic State-members to carry out attacks on Australian targets. In September 2017, after his arrest, Hamid was charged with six sex-related offenses. An Australian federal court has remanded Hamid in custody to face justice in Australia, The Sydney Morning Herald reported. Jihadist sympathizer Hamid was a frequent speaker at local mosques in Victoria's outer eastern suburbs, a police spokeswoman told the Herald. He had
