This is a cool DoS tool, but it's not that easy to use. You have to download the DLL and compile it yourself first. It's a DDoS tool that uses the same core protocols that most VoIP based malware uses. This time its an email attachment containing the code to call a DLL which downloads and executes the malicious code off-line, leaving the victim vulnerable to the attack. This is all it takes for a major DDoS attack! To this, it also integrates a form of copy-protection built into the malicious code, so the victim is forced to reinstall Windows. and will be fully removed after that.the initial step of the rooting.
